

3. Grimes

3. Mr. Grimes, Counsel to the Internal Security Subcommittee, informed me that, in his opinion, considerable confidence in CIA within the Committee had been engendered by the [] matter and now that the initial difficulties of handling such a problem had been surmounted, he hoped that we would keep them in mind should future witnesses of interest become available. I assured him that we would. He reported that considerable interest in [] was developing in the magazine field and that transcripts of the open hearing had been requested by Mr. Charles Murphy of Fortune, Arthur Krock and Anthony Leviero of the New York Times among others. Mr. Lowell, who handles press matters for the Committee, told me that a Mr. Lehmann was anxious to do a series for the Saturday Evening Post. I have passed these comments to [] who is handling the problem.

STAT

STAT

STAT

24 May '54